Meet local talent at book fair event

THE work of local authors will be showcased at a book fair held at Malvern Library tomorrow.

The event, organised by Malvern publisher Aspect Design, will showcase the work of over 20 authors from the Malvern area, whose books include fiction and non-fiction.

Among those who will be using the event to launch a new book will be Irene Waller, whose latest book, Art Matters, explains the reasoning behind the creative process.

She said: "Having written several how-to books, I thought it was time to write a book that answered the question Why?"

Allan Smith, partner at Newtown Road-based Aspect Design, said: "We hope the books on offer will have a wide appeal and illustrate the breadth and depth of talent on our doorstep."
